

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 11, 1894.

Rockcastle Springs.

Who is Thomas Davis?

F. Weckesser is involved.

Look out for traps. They are coming.

Go to Rockcastle Springs for genuine enjoyment.

Bound trip to Mammoth Cave only $15. See local.

Lexington fruit dealers are shipping fruit to Cincinnati.

Entertainments at the University chapel. See local.

Rockcastle Springs is the place. Buckle that to your memory.

F. Weckesser is constantly offering inducements. See local.

Miss Mary Campbell has been confined to her home for several weeks with sickness.

James R. Elliott has been very sick at his home on the Big Hill place. He is improving.

Capt. P. P. Ballard has been on the sick list since his trip to Harrogate, but is improving.

Danpeters from the county poor house are wandering about the streets begging. Why is this time?

The celebration of the fourth in this neck of the woods, like Gildenny's kite, was clear out of sight.

When the ladies get to discussing tariff matters it's a pretty sure sign that they are getting serious.

It is predicted that the great strike will cause an influx of troops into this section. Keep a look out.

The miners have struck and the rail-roads are striking. The pulp is striking next. Then look out.

Citizens who have the welfare of Richmond at heart should look seriously at the matter of a board of trade.

Evil does to the number of ten were put in the county jail in one last week, all for various party offenses.

A school committee will have Richmond school Monday, July 16th, for Rockcastle Springs, for rocks and gas springs.

A Richmond wag says that the reform proposition in stopping their schools on the crossings is they do not want gas to grow there.

Fifty-six white teachers were examined here last Friday the largest number ever examined at one time in this county.

As a result of the hot spell physicians report a great deal of mild and well known complaints. Pleurisy and the two are the most common.

One of the young people encountered by "an" presence at the entrance to the purpose giving at the C. I. chapel on the evening of the 24th and 25th inst.

The thirtieth annual conference of the Madison county, which was held in this town of this excellent Madison county school for full particulars see catalogue.

Charles Duzan, residing near Poplar Ridge, and dangerously wounded his sweetheart, Miss Hall, the other day, when she refused to accompany him to his room supper.

Dr. H. G. Galt's mare kicked dead on the horse and ran off, as he related the melancholy fact, on his return home. He was badly bruised. Like the other catalogue, see "Let It Go."

Dr. Frank Lee Lapsley, of Mount Vernon, was on leave recently in the Louisville Medical College, where he had just finished a three years' course, is a graduate of Central University.

It is very surprising that the colored brother is insensible to the aspirations of the glorious Fourth, he has but to recall that parade down Main street on the 4th inst. It lingers description.

A Chicago man landed in Danville and his talk was "telephone exchange." In a little while he broke through the moss, and the city will have one of the finest telephone exchanges in the state. Turn him to Danville?

A lone hand standing against the front of a hardware store tilted over and stood on its head on the road. It is what might have happened to any one, but in the latter case the incident was expostively suggestive.

Miss J. P. Herndon moved into her elegant new home on Tate's Creek last Thursday. It is a handsome dwelling. The finishing touches, painting and papering, were applied by the experts, J. M. Brown and J. D. Christopher.

Robert Thompson and William Herd made things lively on the 4th of July at King's station, the occasion being the celebration of the day by the G. A. R. Thompson was shot in the thigh by Herd. The wound is not dangerous.

An eighty-year-old cat of the 4th annual fair of the Knox County Fair Association, to be held at Harrogateville, beginning September 18th, has been received, and judging by the attractions promised it will be a real success.

In a coronal at Allot on the 4th of July a man bearing the illustrious name of Albert Sidney Johnson shot and mortally wounded Elijah Giddard. In attempting to make his escape Johnson was shot through both arms. Johnson once lived in the western part of Madison.

A little colored boy, Robert Peyton, was arrested and incarcerated last week for breaking into F. M. Pope's residence on Second street, and stealing a number of pocket knives from Mr. Pope's sample case. The family were away from home at the time. He entered the house by forcing open a rear window.

The forty-year-old daughter of Hon. C. L. Seavey was taken suddenly and dangerously ill last Sunday with paralysis of the stomach and bowels. There was some apprehension as to the child's condition. A late report from her physician, Dr. R. C. Toynot, of Waco, is to the effect that she is now out of danger and recovering.

A Mt. Zion correspondent of the Harrogate Democrat is responsible for the following: "A one-day-old baby belonging to Dr. J. M. Munday jumped off the cliff near Mt. Zion to the river's edge below, a distance of 300 feet without rumples, hair, the fall was taken down the river to the ferry and landed home in a wagon safe and sound."

A dispatch from Cincinnati says that A. J. Crawford, a prominent merchant of that place, attempted to assassinate J. P. Hornaday, city street and law. Two shots were fired, both inflicting flesh wounds. They are not dangerous. Crawford is in the custody of the sheriff.

The trouble grew out of Hornaday sending to a commercial agency, which he represented, a statement showing the latter was in a shaky condition financially.

Married.

At the residence of the bride's parents, near Richmond, Monday, July 9th, 1894, at 12 o'clock, m., Mr. Edgar Blanton and Miss Lily Miller were united in matrimony. Rev. J. R. Bateman performed the ceremony.

Examining Trials.

James Griffin was arraigned before Judge Chennault Friday for the killing of Emanuel Coffey, near Beron. He waived examining trial.

Frank Travis, for killing Joe Wiseman, at Kirskevill, was acquitted.

As we go to press the examining trial of Merrill for killing Geryman is in progress.

Sallie Adkins, charged with the killing of Louis Friedman, at Winchester, was acquitted.

Neatly Done.

James Roe and his two sons were arrested and brought to Richmond last Friday on the charge of breaking into the store of T. W. Gordon, near Beron, and stealing a large lot of clothing. It appears that they secured the stolen goods in the woods about a mile from the store, their intention evidently being to return and take them away. The owner of the store, with the assistance of others, tracked the thieves, and after a diligent search found the missing clothing. Being taken to the store, they were taken to the jail, where they were held for trial.

Somebody has been here since we left. We didn't leave these goods in this shape," just as this was said the men slipped out from their hiding place and took the runways in charge and brought them to Richmond. Possession of the goods could not have picked the months of the robbers more tightly than the remark of one of the captives, "Now we've got 'em," as he came forth from concealment. They made no resistance. The case is a clear one and will come up before the grand jury.

Costly Injuries.

It is a matter of frequent remark by visitors that a larger number of hand-saws and costly residences can be seen in Richmond than any other town of equal size in the state. This pleasing feature of Richmond's attractiveness seldom escapes the notice of even the most casual observer. Many of these large hand-saw residences are in the hands of the most prominent residents, and though their judgments will not admit that such is the case, it is none the less true, and a comparison of notes will furnish abundant evidence of the fact. Within the city limits of Richmond there are two residences which cost $50,000 each, the copper work alone on one of these costing $2,500. There are four residences which cost $20,000 each, four $20,000 each, one $20,000, eight $12,000 each, six $10,000 each, eight $8,000 each, and there are at least fifty which cost very little under $8,000. A gentleman who is in the position to estimate accurately says the raw of hand-saw residences in the city amounts to $2,000,000 in the aggregate, at least $75,000. This is quite a showing for a small city, and it is any wonder that so many emigrants are turned toward Richmond?

A Happy Event Near Harrogateville.

At 11 o'clock on the morning of July 3d, Mr. George Breaslin Noland and Miss Nancy L. Griggs were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents near Harrogateville. Rev. Wm. Impard, of Winchester, performed the ceremony. It was a quiet though beautiful wedding; only a small number of relatives and friends were in attendance. The spouses were and have been delighted with the beautiful, broad design and terms. The bride and groom were the recipients of quite a number of valuable presents, some of them costly. After the ceremony the couple left on a tour to Cincinnati and other points.

Green B. Noland is a son of Nathan Noland, deceased. He is a prosperous farmer, and is held in high esteem by all who know him. He held the office of Deputy Sheriff for three years when Nathan B. Noland was Sheriff of the county and made an excellent officer.

The bride is a daughter of Samuel Griggs, of the same neighborhood, and her lovely character has endeared her to a wide circle of admirers and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Noland will begin house-keeping near Harrogateville.

Installation of Officers.

The officers elected in Madison Lodge No. 14 were formally installed in office last Monday evening.

E. R. Shrewsbury, N. G.; E. C. Kirby, V. G.; J. J. France, Secretary; H. J. Streng, Treasurer; J. W. Cress, Host.

The appointment of officers resulted as follows:

L. S. to N. G., F. L. Wardner; Warlen, B. Jett; E. S. E. G. Parish; L. S. S. L. Z. Taylor; L. S. G. C. A. Wallace; O. S. G. C. L. Minkler; Conductor, S. B. Turpin; R. S. Y. G. L. John L. Tucker; L. S. Y. G. L. Arnold; Chaplain, S. D. Parrish.

Officers in Boone Encampment No. 49 were elected Thursday evening, June 28th, and will be regularly installed on the evening of Thursday, July 13th. They are as follows:

R. C. Kirby, C. P.; F. J. Lipscomb, H. P.; R. Jett, S. W.; S. B. Turpin, J. W.; L. J. France, Secretary; H. J. Streng, Treasurer.

Disruptive Fire in Jessamine.

Probably the heaviest loss by fire ever sustained in Jessamine county was the destruction of E. J. Carley & Co.'s Distillery No. 15, free warehouse, stable and cattle sheds at Camp Nelson, on the night of the 4th inst., entailing also the loss of 40 or 50 barrels of whiskey in the free-warehouses; thirteen mules and one horse confined in the stable.

The fire originated about half-past 8 o'clock in the stable and spread from there to the other property burned. There were several hundred barrels of whiskey in the free-house, but all were saved with the exception of the above-mentioned loss. The loss from the burning number. The fire first started in Nicholasville at 9:30 o'clock, when about the same time a telephone message from a gentleman in E. J. Carley & Co.'s office, at the plant, told of the fire. A number of men from Nicholasville jumped into bugies and carriages and drove down to the fire to render what assistance they could in saving the property.

Distillery No. 15 closed down June 1st, and the loss will have been much greater, as several hundred cattle would have perished in the flames. The loss was estimated at from $50,000 to $60,000. Mr. Carley is known to keep his property well insured, but to the amount of insurance on that destroyed it can not yet be ascertained. Mr. Carley is traveling somewhere in the east, and has not yet been heard from.

The light from this immense conflagration was plainly visible in Richmond and vicinity. It was plainly seen at several points quite a distance west of Richmond. The roof of Hotel Gildenny afforded a good view of the fire, and a number of guests of the hotel and others saw it from that elevation.

The origin of the fire is unknown.

Girl Stolen.

During the past week a respectable looking woman about 25 years of age, plainly dressed, of rather stout build, whose face bore unmistakable evidences of trouble, was seen wandering about the city in a strange manner. She gave her name as Mrs. Amelia Burnett, and is from Tennessee. She arrived in Richmond for the purpose of finding her ten-year-old daughter, who she says, was stolen from her home in Tennessee and brought to Richmond, Ky. She says her daughter was located in Richmond through a lady who resided from a party here by the name of Thomas Davis. She answered the letter, saying that she intended to come after her daughter, and on her arrival she endeavored to find Thomas Davis and her child, but her efforts proved fruitless.

She called at the post-office to see if her letter to Davis had been called for, and discovered that it had not been delivered. This puzzled her more than ever, and she seemed almost frantic. She was questioned by one of the officers and related this story: "You ask me as to the motives any one could have in stealing my child. It is just this. A murder trial, take place in the county where three years ago I was a party here. I was the principal witness for the prosecution. Her testimony will be very damaging to the defense, and knowing this they determined to get her out of the way if possible."

She appeared to be very much perplexed at not finding Thomas Davis in Richmond. If there is such a party here nobody knows it. The officers are mystified, and don't know what to think of the case. It is thought that she is a deceiver, but yet there is some plausibility in her story. She was penniless, and the authorities offered to defray her expenses back to Tennessee. She did not accept the offer, and it is thought she is still in the city, and it is thought she is still in the city.

If her story is true she is to be pitied. If Thomas Davis is in the city he should come forth and throw some light on this mysterious case.

of our best young men and we are sorry to give him up. The good wishes of a host of friends go with him.

Mr. George M. Willing was in Cincinnati last week buying goods. He was within one square of the terrible explosion of nitro-glycerine in that city on July 4th, which killed Jack Driver, the noted sporting character.

Mr. Miffon A. Hayburn last week entertained Mrs. Eliza Jackson, of Tennessee, who is now residing in Richmond with her mother, Mr. J. Speed Smith. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Hayburn were intimate school mates in Danville in 1852.

Mrs. A. T. Millon, of Richmond, Ky., the Secretary of the State Convention of Rebekah Ladies, is in the city attending the Chautauqua. Mrs. Millon is the Superintendent of Public Schools for Madison county, and has the distinction of being the first lady in Kentucky to be elected to the office of Superintendent of Public Schools, and after filling one term was re-elected to another by a very large majority.—Lexington Tennessean.

Rev. Preston Blake, pastor of the Baptist Church at Dayton, Ky., was the guest last week of Mr. C. D. Chennault, city. Rev. Blake was formerly pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, and has many warm friends and admirers here. His church in Dayton has a large membership, and under his zealous and energetic work is steadily increasing. He is the father of two bright little boys, and said he, "I intend to make Baptist ministers of them."

Like true American girls, Miss Bessie Strass and her sister, Miss Carrie, went on board the steamer Amsterdam to celebrate our Fourth on the water that connects the Old World with their loved home. After an absence of four years abroad, where Miss Bessie was the favorite pupil, par excellence, of the greatest masters now living, phenomenally well educated, and highly polished by contact with the best society of Berlin and Vienna, we shall in a few days have the pleasure of meeting a young lady who will be an honor to Kentucky and the United States. She will be home the latter part of this week. Lexington Transcript.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. F. S. Ballitt will begin a protracted meeting at Providence next Sunday.

The series of meetings at State College will continue with a large attendance Sunday.

Protracted meeting will begin at the Christian Church, Brookston, Sunday, July 29th, and will continue until the 11th of August. The meeting will be held at the Christian Church, Brookston, Sunday, July 29th, and will continue until the 11th of August. The meeting will be held at the Christian Church, Brookston, Sunday, July 29th, and will continue until the 11th of August.

During the past six years the Women's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, South, has raised and expended over $80,000 in foreign missionary work.

Dr. J. V. Logan preached for his son, Rev. S. M. Logan, at the Presbyterian Church at Stanford last Sunday. The latter is improving rapidly, but is not yet able to preach.

Rev. Landley McKee will preach at the regular union meeting at the Baptist church next Sunday night. Subjects: "Labor and Capital." Every body should hear this discourse.

The Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will meet in Frankfort on September 12th. Bishop W. M. Duncan, of South Carolina, will preside, and many changes in pastors are looked for.

The Congregational Church at Mill-bridge will make an effort to buy the Fair Seasons Hotel when it is sold in September and convert it into a school, aiming to make it the largest in the South.

Rev. E. H. the drummer evangelist, closed his meeting at Cythra this week with over one hundred converts. The churches paid the expenses of the meeting and gave him three hundred dollars for his services in September.

Mr. James W. Wynn, of Winchester, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Lancaster, Ky.

Mr. J. D. Hakes and two daughters, Minnie and Margaret, are visiting relatives in Clark county.

Miss Mary Lecher, of Richmond, is the guest of Miss Pettit at Chautauqua.—Lexington Transcript.

Mrs. Charles H. Bales has returned to her home in Danville after a pleasant sojourn at South Springs.

Miss Estelle Poyntz returned home Saturday from Mt. Sterling, where she has been visiting relatives.

Miss Alice Lloyd, of M. F. L., has returned to the city from a convulsing tour in the interest of the school.

Mr. Jesse Stokes, the affable address at Waco, Ky., who runs the store, is visiting in Clark county.

Miss Jennie Ferrell, of Richmond, is visiting Mrs. A. M. Tipton, of Mayville street.—Mt. Sterling Transcript.

Dr. W. G. White and wife returned yesterday from their delightful tour through Tennessee and the Carolinas.

Misses Susie and Bessie Wood and Miss Annie Engelman, of Stanford, are the guests of Mayor T. T. Covington and wife.

Ex-Congressman John D. White, of Beattyville, was in town Monday. He is a candidate in the 11th District for a second term.

Mrs. Sallie Elizabeth Phillips died at her home near Harrogateville, Monday night, July 2nd, at 8 o'clock, after a protracted illness of eight weeks or more, from fever. She was the daughter of Harrison Phillips and Matilda Pickell Phillips, and was born March, 1836, on the old home place in this county. When her aged mother died, here the deceased was brought up and until her marriage to Dr. S. D. Welch, where in a home of her own, she wrought out a woman's highest mission as a Christian mother and home keeper. There were born to her eight children, three of whom are now living to adorn her three daughters, Julie W. H. Phillips, of this place, Theodore and Thomas Phillips, of Winchester, and two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Brothers and Mrs. Lila McGee, were present and joined her bereaved husband and children in mourning her death. The funeral services were held at the late home of the deceased, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the graves at the grave in the Central University college ground, on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends attending. A most appropriate and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. F. W. Noland, from the text, "Well do thou good and faithful servant," as assisted by Rev. J. A. Sawyer, who concluded the

